Dear Sirs,

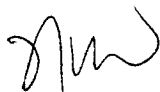

IPO of the Airport Authority

After reading so many press commentaries on the IPO of the Hong Kong Airport, I would like to express my personal support.

Currently, there are not too many companies with good performance that is really originated in Hong Kong. The Airport was converted from a government unit into a commercial enterprise and demonstrated its success since the new airport was opened.

With IPO, certain bureaucratic processes can be eliminated. The Airport can be more commercially oriented to serve the interest of Hong Kong people and not just one or two local airlines. With so many new initiatives to expand and opportunity to improve profit, I am interested to be a shareholder of the Airport.

Yours truly,

Rexford Hui
