I am a Hong Kong student studying in New York University in the United States and I am in support of the government privatization initiative of the Hong Kong Airport.

In response to the "Consultation Document on Partial Privatization of the Airport Authority", I believe the Hong Kong Airport is in position to face market competition in order to obtain faster growth. As a foreign student, I travel a lot. I fly back and forth to Hong Kong and also around the United States. Every time I get stuck at a US airport (which are government-owned and operated), I think about Hong Kong's beautiful airport. The bureaucracy in US airports lead to delays and disorganization. I trust that a privatized airport would service the general public in a more efficient and effective way. The higher charges from privatization may indeed hurt the airport's competitiveness, but I am confident that the World's Best Airport will continue to attract passengers from all over.

I am very proud of the Hong Kong airport and I look forward to its privatization.
